

Weekend Intensive English Seminar

A2/B1 Refresher 16/17 September 2006

16 lessons for 300 €

This weekend intensive English seminar is designed for people who can already speak and understand a little English but maybe haven't really used it since they left school (however long that might be!) We will look at some of the grammatical problems people often encounter when building sentences in English together with some useful phrases and vocabulary for everyday use. The idea for this weekend is to reacquaint people with the English language and provide them with some basic linguistic tools and building blocks to help them speak English with more confidence in the future.

Werkhof is located in Hannover's Nordstadt about 5 mins walk from Hannover University and within easy reach of Hannover Hauptbahnhof and city centre. Apart from the spacious and comfortable seminar rooms, the Werkhof complex also includes an excellent restaurant/café, Zwischenzeit; the 3 star Hotel Schlafgut and a fitness studio complete with sauna. For more information about Werkhof, please visit their site at:
